

White Sox Blank Los Angeles, 2-0 Behind Pizarro

Juan Turns in Three-Hitter; Orioles Defeat Yankees, 6-3

BY JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Editor

It's great working for the Chicago White Sox. You can't beat the hours.

Of course, if things keep up like this the boys will have to play an extra week in October. That would be for the World Series. But you can't beat the money there.

The Sox took only 112 minutes Friday night to polish off the Los Angeles Angels 2-0, with Juan Pizarro pitching a three-hitter and driving in both runs, one with a homer.

At that, it was one minute longer than the Sox took the night before to trim the New York Yankees by the same score. They have now won five straight games, during which they have allowed the opposition five runs, and are a full game in front in the American League.

The Baltimore Orioles kept pace in second place by whipping the Yankees 6-3. It was the fourth straight loss for the world champions.

Phil Regan threw a three-hitter for the Detroit Tigers, who bombed the Cleveland Indians 14-0, and Camilo Pascual did the same job for the Minnesota Twins over the Kansas City Athletics, 2-0. The Boston Red Sox dropped the Washington Senators 6-3.

Pizarro, the 26-year-old southpaw, struck out six Angels and walked only one as he gained his second victory. He homered in the third inning and batted home the insurance run in the fifth with a single, after catcher J. C. Martin had tripped.

Ken McBride, who had never lost to his old Sox mates, was the loser.

Luis Aparicio and Al Smith slugged solo homers off Yankee starter Whitey Ford, and Baltimore starter Mike McCormick was nursing a two-run lead when his arm stiffened in the eighth inning. Relief pitcher Dick Hall came in just before rain had held up play for 35 minutes, and eventually gave up a two-run single to Clete Boyer that tied the score.

Orioles Come Back

The Orioles came right back with three runs off Yankee reliever Hal Reniff in the eighth, on two walks, Jackie Brandt's run-producing double and John Orsino's two-run single.

Dick McAuliffe drove in six runs for the Tigers, four on a grand slam home, and Rocky Colavito and Regan also homered. It was Regan's first in the majors. The Tiger right-hander, working in 36-degree weather, struck out eight and allowed only a single by Johnny Romano until the ninth. Then Willie Kirkland doubled and Romano singled, but the Indians failed to score.

Pascual, who is the only thing keeping the cellar Twins from dropping completely out of sight, pitched his fourth straight complete game for his fourth victory in a row. It was the A's fifth straight defeat, and only the third triumph for the Twins in their last 10—all of them by Pascual.

Ward Doubles

Rookie Jay Ward doubled home both runs for the Twins in the second inning, after Jimmie Hall doubled and Bernie Allen walked. Orlando Pena, who also allowed only three hits in the seven innings he worked, was the loser.

Frank Malzone, shifted to the cleanup spot in the Red Sox batting order, responded with three hits, including a two-run double that broke a 3-3 tie against the Senators in the eighth. Washington's Tom Cheney suffered his second loss against four victories, despite the fact he pitched a three-hitter and struck out 11 in the 7-13 innings he worked. Malzone's double came off reliever Ron Kline.

Larry Osborne's sixth homer and singles by Cheney and Chuck Hinton drove in the Washington Nationals.

New York Sports Fans Talk up Mets' Success

Yankees Win, but No One Seems to Care in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—Has success spoiled the Yankee fans?

Pity the poor Yankees. All they do is win, win and win and yet hardly anyone mentions them around here any more.

It's Mets, Mets, Mets. Everywhere you go, whenever you encounter, all talk about the Mets. The amaz'g, exasperat'g, futile, lovable Mets.

"Hey, how about those amaz'g Mets?"

"Are the Mets for real?"

"Will the Mets finish out of the cellar this year?" "Can the Mets make the first division?"

These are some of the questions being asked everywhere. It's always Mets. Almost never does anyone ask about the Yankees. In most places, the Yankees are being referred to as "the other team."

These are the great Yankees, champions in 12 of the last 14 years. The team that boasts the legend of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio. The team that still boasts such live, active diamond heroes as Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, Yogi Berra and Whitey Ford.

All the New Yorkers' pent-up love, sympathy and pathos, is reserved for the inferior, inadequate, inimitable and infant Mets.

This phenomenon is difficult to fathom. All sorts of explanations have been offered. Psychologists will tell you it's the average person's love for the underdog. Long-time baseball fans say it's the joy of seeing the National League lamer in New York again. Old timers insist it's the presence of Casey Stengel, the 73-year-old manager.

Whatever the reason, the Yankees are confused, confounded and greatly concerned.

"What does it take to be appreciated," a perplexed Yankee official asked. "The Yankees were the only team not to desert New York. The Yankees have consistently presented good, interesting and winning teams."

"The Yankees are the world champions. Yet we find ourselves in a position of being tolerated rather than admired. What's happened to the baseball fans in New York? Have they gone nuts?"

They've gone nuts over the Mets.

Jack Nicklaus Nears Boros in Colonial Meet

Leader Maintains 4-Under-Par 66 In $60,000 Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The massive shadow of Jack Nicklaus hovered over the field today as Julius Boros led the golfing elite into the third round of the Colonial National Invitation Tournament.

Boros, with a 4-under-par 66, held a two-shot lead over Doug Sanders as the field of 65 moved 18 steps closer to division of the $60,000 jackpot.

Boros posted a 71-66—137 at the halfway point Friday while Sanders, the leader after the first round, drifted to a 72 for a 36-hole total of 139.

Trailing Sanders by one stroke were Nicklaus, Bobby Nichols, Bruce Crampton and Tony Lema, who all carved one or more shots from the 7,021-yard par 70 Colonial course.

The presence of Nicklaus among the leaders was uppermost in the minds of the front-runners.

"What did Ohio Fats shoot today?" Sanders asked.

Told that Nicklaus, a 205-pounder from Columbus, Ohio, playing out of Tucson, Ariz., had fired a 69, Sanders quipped:

"Baby Bee!"

"Several weeks ago it was (Arnold) Palmer and now it's Baby Bee."

"He says he's gonna take off in a couple weeks and go home and count his cash."

Nicklaus, 23, came to the Colonial with three current tournament titles, including the Masters, in his trophy case.

The three were the same Palmer won last year in his ride to prominence. Palmer, the defending champion here, watched his championship aspirations dim Friday as he shot a 5-over-par 75.

It gave him a total of 149, 12 strokes off Boros' pace.

Lema and Crampton matched Nicklaus' 69 Friday.

Nichols joined Jack Burke Jr. in registering the second best score of the day, a 67. Burke's 67 left him at 141 and alone in seventh place.

Two recent college graduates, Jerry Edwards and Phil Rodgers, shared the 142 shot, one stroke ahead of Jack Fleck and Bob Rosburg.

Esposito Put On Waivers By White Sox

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The long, unspectacular career of Sammy Esposito, who certainly found baseball broadening, apparently is at an end.

The 31-year-old utility infielder for the Chicago White Sox was placed on waivers Thursday as the major league clubs cut their rosters to the 25-man limit. It is doubtful the 5-foot-9, 170-pounder ever will play again.

"I don't mind being the utility infielder," Esposito always claimed. "As long as I can fill in when I'm needed. Every club's got to have one."

Esposito's main claim to fame was that he saw so little action in an entire major league career spanning a decade he played in 541 games. He came to bat 77 times and wound up with a .267 batting average.

He appeared in one game for the White Sox this season. He had no way of knowing it was his last. State 16-14.

'Like Pie Traynor'

Bragan Enthusiastic Over Menke at Third

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "He ended a six-game losing streak with a rain-curtailed, 4-1 victory. In the fifth, Rojas hit a high pop fly toward the pitcher's mound. Menke came in and kept after the ball as the wind whipped it back across the first base foul line, halfway to the dugout. He caught it at the last second. And if that wasn't enough, Menke broke a 1-1 tie with a home run in the middle of a four-run sixth inning.

Bragan, after comparing Menke's two plays with the kind made years ago by Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said he intended to keep the 22-year-old at third base and the veteran Eddie Mathews in left field.

Not Awed

Menke isn't awed about stepping into the shoes of Mathews, one of the National League's top third basemen for many years.

Typical of his determination was his remark to Bragan after the 6½ inning game: "I didn't quit on that one, did I?"

Bragan explained that Menke referred to the Rojas foul. "Against Houston, he gave up on one that fell between him and Mathews because he thought Eddie would get it," Bragan said. "I told him about it the next day, cautioning him never to quit on the ball. The way he went after that one tonight shows he learned."

Mathews also came in for praise from Bragan.

"He (Mathews) told me in the seventh when I took him out for a defensive replacement that 'I'm gaining confidence out there,' Bragan said. "I told him, 'Eddie, I'd feel pretty rotten if someone hit a tricky liner out there and you couldn't make the play.' But I like the spirit."

Asked at a luncheon to comment about Gov. Edmund Brown's proposal that boxing be banned, issued after the ring deaths of champions Benny Paret and Davey Moore, Fullmer replied: "Talk of banning boxing is real premature and rather childish. I never drink alcohol. So I could say, 'Let's ban all bars.' Those who don't use it would go along with me, those who do would be opposed."

Fullmer has a July date to meet champion Dick Tiger in a 15-round bout in Nigeria.

Asked if he thought there should be a change in boxing gloves, he said, "I have no recommendations. If the other guy is hitting you, you feel the gloves are too big. If you're hitting him, you think they're too big."

The St. Norbert College student chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management received the Remington Rand achievement plaque for placing seventh in nation-wide competition with about 200 student chapters at a joint meeting with the Fox Valley SAM chapter Thursday in Green Bay.

The award was presented to David Benesh, newly elected pres-

Ronald Renier, outgoing president of the St. Norbert chapter, was presented a watch for outstanding contributions to the chapter over the past year. Sidney J. Levy, professor of marketing in the school of business at Northwestern University, told the group that motivation of people must be judged by their social status, economic status and background rather than by other foreign factors.

You must know all these things in order to judge and motivate people, he said. People buy things for various reasons, some simply because they are used to buying and living on credit, he said. About 70 members, their wives

Plant Tours, Family Days Scheduled

MENASHA — Thousands of employees of more than a dozen paper manufacturing firms in the Twin Cities next week will honor an industry that has made famous the Fox River Valley as well as the entire state of Wisconsin — paper.

The event will be "Wisconsin Paper Week" which will be observed Sunday through May 18.

At least half of the major paper manufacturers in Neenah-Menasha will hold activities commemorating the industry. Several will hold "family days" and conduct tours through facilities as well as putting up displays of company activities.

An extensive advertising and publicity campaign has been planned to draw attention to the importance of the industry and its benefits to the consumer and employee.

Group's Founder Says Lack of Funds for Project Chief Drawback

He told the C of C leaders that the museum now contains over 900 articles from some 255 exhibits.

Entire County Klofanda emphasized that this was not a "Chilton project." It is for the entire county to support, he said.

The chamber officials were generally impressed with the Klofanda's plans and indicated that some day they hoped to have a representative to work with the society.

Chamber president William Engler Sr. reported that all preparations for the second annual Chilton Scholastic Recognition Banquet were completed. Engler has been working with Robert Lutz, banquet chairman, in planning the May 22 event in St. Martin Lutheran Church hall.

At the suggestion of Ronald Hansen, the C of C will explore the possibilities of having the Eastern Wisconsin Music Festival here next year. Hansen will discuss the plan with Marvin W. Hoffmann, Chilton High School instrumental music instructor and band director.

mons scattered nine hits for his fifth victory without a loss while Friend absorbed his second defeat in five decisions despite allowing only five hits. It was the first time the Pirates had been shut out this season.

Perfect Ball

Farrell pitched perfect ball for six innings, but the Cubs put both their hits together for a run in the seventh inning on Lou Brock's single and a triple by Billy Williams. Rusty Staub, 19-year-old Colts rookie, collected three singles in four at-bats and drove in two runs in support of Farrell, who struck out 13 and squared his record at 3-3. Glen Hobbie lost it.

Hickman's eighth inning homer snapped a 2-2 tie and provided the Mets with the longest winning streak in their two-year history. It also ended Jim O'Toole's five-game winning streak and handed the Reds' southpaw his second defeat against six victories. Carl Willey, touched for Johnny Edwards' two-run homer, was the winner with a five-hitter that brought his record to 3-1.

Powers' Pub Tips Eagles, 14-1, in Five

KAUKAUNA — Powers' Pub pounded out a 14-1 win over the Eagles Club in a City Softball game Thursday, the game limited to five innings due to the lopsided score. The second game had Dick and Betty's Bar down Hub Bar 7-5.

Powers' had eight singles in the contest, but were aided by 12 walks and three errors. The losers managed one single off Jack Coenen and that coupled with a walk and error accounted for the lone tally.

Hub Bar managed only three hits off Tom Resch but control trouble kept him in hot water and accounted for the five runs as he walked nine batters. Joe Vosters tripled for the losers.

Dick and Betty's scored four runs in the third without a hit. High School, Lourdes of Oshkosh as three errors, a walk, a sacrifice fly and a fielder's choice accounted for the tallies. Ron Olweh, who doubled for the lone extra base blow in the 6-hit attack.

Kansas City May be Seeking Hockey Squad

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City, intrigued by prospects of a professional football team, may be in line for another fall sport — hockey.

John Antonello, director of the Municipal Auditorium, said officials of the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League met recently with the auditorium advisory committee to discuss moving a team to the city.

Lincoln Cavorella, business manager of the Red Wings, said in Detroit the club definitely is interested in installing a team in Kansas City.

Chamber of Commerce leaders currently are trying to sell 25,000 season tickets to bring the Dallas Texans of the American Football League here.

Patterson Will Make Trip to Birmingham

Floyd Insists There Will be No More Bout Delays

NEW YORK (AP) — Neither Floyd Patterson's injured finger nor his projected trip to strife-torn Birmingham, Ala., will cause any further delay in his rematch with heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, Patterson insists.

Patterson was knocked out in the first round of his first fight with Liston. Their oft-postponed rematch now is scheduled for Las Vegas July 22.

"The fight definitely will go on July 22," the former champion said Thursday. "Even if my hand hasn't healed, it will go on. There will be no more delay on my part."

Nor, said Patterson, would his trip to racially-troubled Birmingham delay the bout, though he added:

"I expect to be arrested. I expect to be handled roughly and put in jail. If they do put me in jail, I imagine there will be somebody to put up bail."

Patterson and baseball Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson said they were going to Birmingham next Monday.

size and his uniform, Lipscomb said seriously, "I ain't a football player."

Then with a wide grin, he signed "Big Daddy." He got the nickname when he broke into pro football with the Los Angeles Rams.

Lipscomb had trouble remembering names and called his teammates "Little Daddy." They responded with "Big Daddy."

Art Donovan, a former Colt defensive teammate, recalled that last year when he retired "I got a note from Big Daddy and he kiddingly said that he was now the greatest tackle in the league."

Years before, Colt defensive end Gino Marchetti declared Lipscomb "is the best defensive lineman in the league." This was an honor voted Marchetti.

These free gifts were distributed to people who have taken 20 to 35 minutes to get acquainted with the fine quality products.

Six years ago, American Homemaker Products, Inc., opened a factory showroom at Valley Fair Shopping Center. Since then, thousands of homes have opened their doors to these same factory representatives, knowing with assurance that it is a reliable group, standing behind every thing which they sell.

One of the hardships of business is to run against the prejudices of people and customers who might have been "burned" by a hit and run concern. However, when a company and its employees are around six to ten years later, it is a pretty good indication that here is a substantial firm.

'Well Cared-For Fence Mark Good Neighbors' Still Has Ring of Truth

As the poet Robert Frost once put it: "Good fences make good neighbors." And they still do — even though the fences may be only decorative additions to the landscape around a modern home.

By keeping such fences well-painted and in good repair, today's home owner stamps himself as a good neighbor helping to keep his neighborhood attractive and property values up.

Has Practical Purpose

Chuck Shannon, manager of the Sherwin-Williams branch at 302 E. College avenue, suggests that a well-painted fence has dollar and cents value, too.

"Pickets and posts protected by paint resist weathering," he points out. "They are far less likely to warp and rot, and they will not have to be replaced nearly so often."

For best results the local businessman recommends use of a good exterior house paint on fences. In most cases, two coats of paint — an undercoat followed by a top coat — are prescribed. If your fence is very badly weathered, Shannon urges application of a paintable wood preservative before painting. This material substantially retards rotting and fungus growth and repels wood boring insects.

"But be sure the wood preservative is the paintable type," he cautions. "If you use any other kind it will bleed through a paint put over it."

Appleton Employee Guilty of Theft

Bernhard Bohn Admits Taking Coins From Parking Meter Funds

A part-time employee in the Appleton city treasurer's office, Bernhard Max Anton Bohn, 58, 515 N. Durkee St., pleaded guilty Friday to theft of an undetermined amount of money taken while he counted parking meter collections at city hall between May 1, 1962 and Thursday when he was arrested by Appleton police.

The case was continued two weeks by County Judge Gustave Keller, who ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Bohn is being held in the Outagamie County jail without bond.

Estimates Sum

Bohn, who has been an employee in the treasurer's office over five years, said he began taking the money over a year ago and told police he estimated he took between $300 and $500 in small change.

The change was transferred in to bills at various business places. Bohn told the proprietors he was cashing in his cribbage winnings when he took in the coins. Police were told by Bohn that the money went to buy drinks.

Police, acting on a tip, set up

Mass to Honor Menasha Priest

Silver Jubilee Celebration Set for St. Mary Church

MENASHA — The Very Rev. Julian C. Resch, O. Praem, son of Mrs. George J. Resch, 109 Milwaukee St., will celebrate the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood at the 11 a.m. mass on Sunday, May 19, at St. Mary Catholic Church.

A reception and dinner in his honor will follow the mass.

Father Resch was named director of the Latin-American missions of the Norbertine Fathers of St. Norbert Abbey, De Pere, in August, 1961. Last fall he returned to the abbey from a visit to nine South American countries, including Chile, Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela.

As superior of the Norbertine missions in Peru, he will leave this month to establish a mission on the east edge of Lima, Peru.

After attending St. Mary High School to tenth grade, the highest level in the school at the time, Father Resch went to Capuchin schools in Mt. Calvary, and Huntington, Ind. He entered the Norbertine order in 1933. He took his simple vows in 1935 and was ordained Aug. 31, 1938.

In 1947 he received his master of arts degree from Villanova College. He is the son of the late George Resch who served as Menasha's police chief until 1949.

Driver Hurt, Auto Burns in 2 Accidents

One driver was injured and a car destroyed by fire in separate Appleton and Outagamie County auto accidents early today.

Howard D. Quimby, 23, 1625 N. McDonald St., Appleton, was taken by Lindy's ambulance to Memorial Hospital with shoulder injuries, cuts about his head and abrasions. A car driven by Quimby collided with one driven by Chris Konz, 27, 1539 E. Amelia St., at N. Rankin and E. Pacific streets about 7:55 a.m.

The car driven by Jerome H. Rhoder, 22, 508 N. Shawano St., New London, burned leaving County Trunk D just north of Shakey Lake near Dale early today and landed in a ditch.

Outagamie County police said the car left the road on the right side and traveled in the ditch one tenth of a mile, came out of the ditch, crossed the road and went into the left ditch for 375 feet, snapping off a telephone pole. Rhoder was not hurt. While he was getting help to remove the car from the ditch, a fire ignited and destroyed the car. The New London fire department was called.

Request Action on Wettengel Home

Board of Health Sends Letter To City Attorney on Conditions

City Atty. Frederick Froehlich said today that the City of Appleton will begin action against the owner of the home at 605 N. Oneida St., which has fallen into a state of disrepair.

The residence is owned by Hubert Wettengel, about 40, who inherited the building as part of a $100,000 estate in 1959.

Wettengel alternates his place of residence between Appleton and Chicago, according to Froehlich, who has been unsuccessful in having him come here to clean up the building.

On Friday, Froehlich received an official request from the Board of Health that he take legal action against Wettengel. The health department contends the residence represents a health hazard and public nuisance because of the infestation of rats and other rodents.

Appleton police entered the home in March to investigate a possible break-in and found the interior in the state of filth. Piles of mail, including dividend checks, were scattered on the porch, authorities said.

"There are two ways of handling this problem," Froehlich explained and said he would explore both. One would be to have the common council declare the residence a nuisance, and the other would be to act under state statute 66.05 and request the court to declare it unsanitary and a nuisance, along with issuing a condemnation order.

Under the second procedure, Wettengel would have 30 days notice and could have the place cleaned up, according to Froehlich. "This would save both the city and Wettengel a lot of trouble and expense," he added.

The health department has written to Wettengel at his Chicago hotel requesting that he come to Appleton. He failed to put in a showing at the last board of health meeting a week ago.

"I called Wettengel a few weeks ago and he said he would come here and do some spring cleaning but he hasn't showed," Froehlich said. Wettengel, according to Froehlich, said he has been recovering from an illness and is anxious to get the home cleaned up and authorities satisfied.

Froehlich said three days ago he sent a registered letter to Wettengel, also at Chicago, but has not received a receipt that Wettengel received it personally.

Froehlich said he would confer with health department sanitarians and the building inspector next week before instituting legal action.

"By then I will have made a decision as to how the city should proceed," Froehlich said.

Xavier Language Fair to Feature Exhibit of Authentic Roman Arms

Village Has Public Shelter Supply Display

KIMBERLY — A display of items being stocked in public fallout shelters has been prepared by Quentin Williams, civil defense director.

Items can be viewed in the window of Roy's Apparel, 117 W. Kimberly Ave. Williams urges residents to view the display and remember what it contains. In event of need for use of a public shelter, citizens will know important items which they should take to the shelter to supplement items furnished.

The display includes radiation detection meters, sanitary kits, medical kits, food and water containers. Persons forced to make use of a shelter could bring extra food and water, blankets, radios, flashlights and other items.

The government is stocking public shelters with the barest of necessities for survival with no eye for comfort, according to Williams.

Foundation Will Handle Monies
Given College for Achievement

OSHKOSH — Organized to receive monies and other gifts for the achievement of the scientific, literary and educational purposes of the college is the new Oshkosh State College Foundation, Inc., according to articles of incorporation filed late Friday with Register of Deeds Bernice L. Fuller.

The articles for the non-profit foundation were filed by Atty. Russell F. Williams on behalf of a group of Oshkosh townsmen and OSC staff members who are listed as the original members.

They include: Carl Biederman, president, Oshkosh National Bank; Boyd Jordan, president, New American Bank at Oshkosh and chairman of the new Oshkosh State College Citizens Council; Leighton Hough, president, First National Bank of Oshkosh; Lewis Magnusen, Charles Nolan and Russell Williams, attorneys; Frank Radford and Carl Steiger, retired businessmen; W. Mea Stillman, president, Wisconsin National Life Insurance Co.; Dr. Roger E. Guiles, OSC president; Dr. William White, executive assistant to the OSC president; and Dr. James F. Duncan, OSC dean of business affairs.

Williams noted the original members will serve as an ad hoc board of directors whose initial responsibility will be to expand the corporation's membership to 25 to 50 members. After the membership has been increased, the first elected board of directors will be established.

From Geographic Area
Membership in the corporation will be representative, in general, of the geographic area served by the college and will be composed of alumni and non-alumni members. Purpose of the foundation will be to provide features for the college which are not supplied by the state.

Because the state is struggling to provide needed funds for buildings and staff, little provision is made for some features of great liberal arts and teacher education colleges, one of the corporation members said. He cited, as an example, that the state colleges are the only higher education institutions in the state that cannot offer continuing scholarships to students of outstanding academic promise.

He also noted the lack of funds to provide for truly outstanding visiting professors and the constant need to search out benefactors who will help to maintain the college's National Defense Student Loan program through matching grants.

Dr. Guiles, OSC president, in commenting on the foundation's filing its corporate articles, said, "The growth of our college has outstripped the funds available for what can be called the 'excellence' features of a great college."

"The problems occasioned by growth are being met in part by the University of Wisconsin and many of the fine colleges of Wisconsin through funds provided by college and university foundations. I hope that this new foundation will aid us in our goal of expansion with excellence."

Enrollment Growth
Oshkosh State College in the early 1950's had enrollment of about 800. Last fall the enrollment stood at 3,324, and the board of regents predicts an enrollment approaching 8,000 by the early 1970's.

Counties most heavily represented in the present student body include Winnebago, Fond du Lac, Outagamie, Milwaukee, Brown, Dodge, Waupaca, Manitowish, Sheboygan, Waukesha, Marinette, Oconto, Washington, Door, Green Lake, Calumet, Shawano, Ozaukee, Waushara, Columbia and Kewaunee.

Most of the corporation membership is expected to come from these areas.

Principal office of the foundation will be on the Oshkosh State College campus and Dr. White will be its initial registered agent.

Homemade Musical Baton; Use It With Your Hi-Fi

BY CAPPY DICK

Almost everybody has a secret hankering to lead an orchestra. Most toe-tappers probably figure they would be whizzes at it. So today's fun-project is a homemade orchestra leader's baton that has a special decoration on it in the form of a treble clef. Use it as the boy is doing in Figure 2 to direct the orchestra on your hi-fi record player or radio.

To make the baton, start with a strip of wood about 14 inches long. If possible, use a dowel. It may, however, be any strip approximately three-eighths of an inch thick.

Leave the stick thick at one end and whittle it to a gracefully tapered point at the other end as in Figure 1. Sandpaper it to make it very smooth.

Copper Wire

The treble clef is formed of copper wire. Use fairly heavy wire which can be obtained at a hardware store. Study the shape of a treble clef in your music book, then bend the wire to the shape shown there, making the clef three inches high.

Attach the clef near the thick end of the baton where it will serve as a kind of hilt, as on a sword. Small staples will hold it in place, or it may be attached with fine wire reinforced with fast-drying glue.

If you have never seen an orchestra leader directing his musicians with a baton, watch for a symphony concert on TV and you'll soon learn how to wave the baton most effectively.

3 Stumbling Blocks Cited in TB Fight

Doctor Tells Outagamie Group Of Apathy by Public, Physicians

The three stumbling blocks to extensive programs of chest X-rays, and more emphasis on apathy, physician apathy and the element of time, Dr. Ben Lawton of Marshfield said at the annual meeting of the Outagamie County Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. Lawton, chief of chest surgery at the Marshfield Clinic, gave a talk entitled "Three Men on Third Base." He drew an analogy from the baseball game in the 1926 World Series in which three players were caught on third base, and the three groups presently involved in the eradication of TB — the physicians, the public health department, and the National Health Department. He said if one of these three doesn't score soon, the game will be called on account of darkness.

To combat TB, we must seek out the reservoirs of the disease, Dr. Lawton said. These fall into four groups — the aged, the ill, the transient and the arrested cases, he noted.

If these cases are to be found and treated, we must have more

He said haste was necessary in the eradication of TB so that the tubercle bacilli do not become resistant to the present drugs.

At the annual meeting, the association's change to county-wide organization became official. It formerly was the Appleton Area Tuberculosis Association.

Increased Service

The county-wide status of the association will mean increased service for the county areas outside of the Appleton area, Mrs. John Milhaupt, president, explained. These areas have been served through the state association, but now half of the proceeds from the Christmas Seal drive in these areas will stay with the Outagamie County TB Association, and the programs in the Appleton area, such as tuberculin skin testing in the schools and the mobile X-ray unit, will be extended on a county-wide basis, she said.

Two new board members from the county are Orville Sell, Black Creek, and Eugene Reidl, Hortonville. Also new on the board are Mrs. H. T. Gross and Dr. Paul C. Hodges, both of Appleton. Mrs. Norbert Gerend, Kaukauna; Mrs. Ervin Bathke, Seymour; and Mrs. Milo Singler, Shiocton Board members finishing their terms of office were Mrs. John Milhaupt, and Mrs. Dan Cloud of Appleton, and Norbert Gerend, Kaukauna.

The Rev. Edward Dahl, minister of the First Congregational Church, Appleton, was named to the new post of religious advisor, replacing Rabbi Gilbert Silverstein, Appleton, who had been on the board.

The county association now has a part-time professional worker serving it, Miss Patricia Bishop, Milwaukee who is with the health education department of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, spends about two weeks each month working for the Outagamie County TB Association.

She sets up educational materials and programs in the Milwaukee office, and spends about one week each month in the local office at 2002 E. Wisconsin Ave. She functions as a coordinator of volunteer activities, and is available to give programs to interested groups.

Testing Report

The report on the 1962-1963 case-finding programs showed that 2,981 persons in Appleton, Kaukauna, Little Chute and Combined Locks received chest X-rays, and 4,854 school children in Appleton and the county received the tuberculin skin test. Of the 2,981 receiving the skin test in Appleton, there were 116, or 3.9 percent, positive reactions, while in the 1,965 tested in the rest of the county, only 16, or .9 percent, had positive reactions.

A movie entitled "Anatomy of a Disease" was shown at the dinner meeting. Produced for the National Tuberculosis Association, the documentary film shows how modern science is set up to handle a complex disease by going behind the scenes in a tuberculosis clinic and hospital.

In Recognition of Music Appreciation Week, the Neenah Lions Club Friday presented a check to the Neenah Music Parents Association. The donation will go toward scholarships provided for Neenah High students to the University of Wisconsin Music Clinic this summer. Schubert, music group vice president; and Robert Gruetzman, Neenah public school music director. (Post-Crescent Photo)

New Books

Author Tells of Tough 'Courtroom Warrior'

"Courtroom Warrior" by Richard O'Connor — the story of William Travers Jerome, the two-dotted or Plutarch, proves to be a term, two-fisted district attorney of New York City during that boisterous period known as the "turn of the century" — is one of the new books on display at the Appleton Public Library this week.

Jerome stood in the glare of an overlapping spotlight in his effort to make municipal politics respectable and respectable people more political. He was involved in some of the most spectacular legal wrangles of the era, working up successful cases against the Lee Trust, the notorious attorney Abe Hummerl, Dick Canfield (the "prince of gamblers"), and sundry leaders of vice and corruption in Tammany-protected resorts in the Tenderloin and the Bowery.

Although he failed to obtain a conviction in the Nan Patterson "murder in a hansom cab," it was he who bore the brunt of two trials which finally put Stanford White's murderer into a hospital for the criminally insane, and he was to pursue the case's aftermath for nearly a decade both in office and out.

The tide of public sympathy and newspaper adoration only began to run against him when observers failed to note that Jerome had very little statutory armament for the battle against the insurance rackets and the Metropolitan Street Railway.

Portrait of Era

O'Connor's study of Jerome is far more than just the biography of one man intrepid and indomitable as that man may have been; it is a cogent and effective portrait of an era the likes of which may never be seen again. "The Ancient Engineers" by L. Sprague de Camp, studied with the off-hand gossipy glitter of a sophisticated scholar (Aristotle had a lisp, the pyramids were not built by hordes of slaves, etc.)

Lawrence Says:

Alabama Riots To be Repeated In Other Cities

Charges Disorders Planned to Get Aid For Organizations

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Human nature can hardly be repealed by statute. Education and better communication between segments of the community can help to improve relations between groups. But violence and demonstrations that provoke riots can only produce tensions and make worse the relations between racial factions.

These observations, which take into account the gravity of the race problem in America, have been expressed again and again in the past. But, unfortunately, the net result of most of the public demonstrations has been more and more bitterness and a retardation of real progress between peoples of different color.

The Birmingham demonstrations now have been given a certain kind of validity by President Kennedy's not involving violation of any federal statute and as not furnishing any basis for federal intervention. This is somewhat different from the continued use of federal troops in Mississippi to quell threatened demonstrations long after a federal court order compelling the admission of a student in the University of Mississippi has been obeyed.

The President expresses instead the hope that the State of Alabama will maintain law and order and that the community of Birmingham will find some solution of its own to improve race relations. This is a tolerant position for Mr. Kennedy to assume toward the people of Alabama. It is strikingly different from the attitude of the national administration toward the people of the State of Mississippi.

No Law Passed

Mr. Kennedy at his news conference on Wednesday spoke of "federal statutes" not being involved in Birmingham. But there was none violated in Mississippi, either Congress has passed no law requiring integration in the public schools. Yet the Fourteenth Amendment says Congress alone can pass the legislation to enforce the provisions of the amendment. It is questionable whether the supreme court was right in ignoring the absence of any federal legislation dealing with desegregation of public schools.

But the Birmingham demonstrators were not willing to wait even for court orders to be issued and for a determination to be made in the customary way. Instead demonstrations were organized in the last few days and thousands of

GOP Endorses Robert Pierce

Seeks Re-election as Committeeman for Wisconsin Party

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Robert L. Pierce of Menomonee, Republican national committeeman for Wisconsin, has been endorsed for re-election to the place by a large majority of the Republican members of the legislature, including all of the Republican leadership in both legislative houses.

Pierce is expected to be re-elected easily to the highest ranking party organization position by the delegates to the state Republican convention at Oshkosh on May 25.

He is being opposed by Edward Friend, a Milwaukee business executive and a leader in the Republican organization of Milwaukee County.

Friend is presenting his candidacy as a vigorous conservative. Pierce has described himself as a moderate. He was originally elected to the national party committee during the Eisenhower administration and his past party service includes the party state chairmanship.

The new four year term he is seeking would be his third. Pierce is 60 and head of a milling and feed company in Menomonee.

The Oshkosh convention is expected also to re-elect Mrs. Byron Ising of Oshkosh as national party committeewoman for the state.

No other candidate for the second Wisconsin seat on the national party leadership group has yet appeared.

Fire Partially Burns Home In Bear Creek

BEAR CREEK — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the first floor of the two-story home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Babino, route 1, at 4:30 p. m. Friday.

A neighbor, Raymond Lehman, saw black smoke pouring out of the structure and called the Bear Creek fire department. No one was in the house at the time. Babino was at work at the Allas Conveyor Co. and Mrs. Babino was on her way home from Clintonville with five of their six children.

The family was awaiting the arrival of another son, James, who was expected home Friday evening from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The upper story and furnishings were a total loss and water and smoke damages occurred on the lower floor. The loss is partially covered by insurance. Total estimate of the loss was not immediately available.

Public School Buses Getting More Riders

Over 285,000 Pupils Transported Last Year in Wisconsin

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — As the pressure upon the legislature for the legalization of public transportation of parochial school children continues the public school buses are steadily increasing their passenger loads of public school children, elementary and high school.

A new report covering 1962-63 school year operations shows that the number of students being transported at public expense rose to slightly over 285,000, or more than 37 per cent of the total of the eligible enrollment in the state. The proportion of transported children is now at the highest level on record. A decade ago the ratio was under one quarter of the total of the public school enrollment.

The trends reported by the state department of public instruction indicate that many school districts are following transportation policies beyond the mandatory requirements of state law, out of their own budgets.

The state law requires transportation of children who live two miles or more from their schools, and the state treasury pays aids to the local district on that basis.

The annual survey of school transportation by Theodore Sorenson of the state department of public instruction showed that the average cost per pupil last year was $63.81, which represented a slight rise from the previous year, but a reduction below earlier periods when the average load per bus was lower.

There are now more than 4,800 buses in use for the program, an all-time high figure, and the state-wide cost of the transport service is now more than $17,000,000 a year.

The average bus carries 56 pupils each day, travels a route of about 28 miles in length, and picks up about two riders per mile.

Cooper Enters Final Pre-Orbit Study Schedule

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. began his final 72-hour preparation today for his scheduled rendezvous with the stars next Tuesday.

He moved into the pilots' "ready room" at Cape Canaveral's Hangar S, where five previous U.S. astronauts spent their last days before their flights. Cooper will not be confined to Hangar S, but will spend much of his time there resting and studying the flight plan.

He started a low-residue diet designed to reduce excretion during the planned 34-hour mission in which he is to circle the globe 22 times. The diet, laced with ample protein, includes meat, rice, eggs, sugar, fruit juices, coffee and tea.

On Cooper's agenda today were a series of meetings to review the mission and discuss status of the Atlas booster rocket, the "Faith 7" spacecraft, the worldwide tracking network, weather and other flight phases.

Protest Fish License Rule

Tribe Says Treaty Being Violated at Hearing in Madison

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Spokesmen for the members of the former Menominee Indian tribe have protested what they called an attempt to destroy the ancient treaty rights of the Menominee Indians to hunt, fish and trap within the new Menominee County without licenses from the conservation department.

The fact that the federal government terminated the tribal status of the Menominee community by congressional act two years ago and that the state has set up a new Menominee county cannot affect the basic rights of the members of the "Menominee nation," said Indians and spokesmen for Menominee Enterprises, Inc., at a legislative hearing.

The corporation was formed to manage the property and resources of the Indians after the federal termination act.

Bi-Partisan Bill
A bi-partisan bill being considered by the senate committee on conservation would permit Indian residents of the new county to hunt, trap and fish within it without paying for licenses, and permit them to negotiate with the conservation commission for special bag limits and season rules that might be different than those applying in the rest of the state.

The measure is apparently sponsored as a backdrop for the corporation's attempt to prove in the state supreme court that Indians are not required to have such licenses. The pending litigation results from a test arrest of three Indian by the conservation department last fall.

Hard Goods and Cars Replacement Demand Showing Increase

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"We need a new stove," stated Louise, our no-nonsense housekeeper, when I walked into the kitchen in our country house last Saturday.

"What's it for?" I asked. "It's broken," she said. "What's wrong with it?" "Lame, I ended it. It looks okay to me."

"What is wrong with it?" I asked. "You bought it back in 1956 and it's worn out. It cooks only because I make it cook and it looks okay only because I keep it looking that way. We need a new stove. Now."

"You ought to junk that thing you call a car," I heard a friend say to his gardener a few hours later. "Not even you can keep that heap running much longer."

"Going to this summer," said he remarked. "If you hear of a bargain in a second-hand car, let me know."

Strong Factor
These two conversations, by coincidence on the same day, pound home to me the enormously important but still generally overlooked fact that we are entering for already have entered a new cycle of rising replacement demand for durable goods.

This replacement demand will range from autos and appliances to business equipment and houses. It will be a factor which could give our entire economy a strong upward push in the years ahead.

Buying to replace big-ticket items we bought in the early-middle 1950s and which are now wearing out will help raise the "floor" under the demand for durable goods — and when our durable goods industries are prospering, our economy prospers.

When mounting replacement buying is added to the new buying flowing naturally from our growing population and increasing personal incomes, the impact on business is bound to be good.

Scrapage of automobiles sold during the boom mid-1950s is up sharply this year and will continue to increase. Junking of cars in 1963 is estimated at an all-time record of 5.5 million compared with 4.4 million in 1962 and only slightly over 3 million a year early in the past decade.

Machine Tools, Too
Scrapage of appliances also is climbing steadily, and as one appliance manufacturer put it, "All we need will be one hot week in July and the number of refrigerators going to the junk pile will skyrocket."

Scrapage of obsolete business equipment is accelerating, but even so a new "American Business" survey reveals that 64 per cent of all machine tools today are over-age, more than 10 years old; against 60 per cent five years ago. The need for modernizing machines and plants in the U.S. is urgent, and assuming Congress votes new tax incentives to spur business investment, plant expansion and modernization will be further stimulated.

The scrapage pattern in automobiles is of major significance to the American economy. To be specific:

It was in 1953—10 years ago—that the years of big auto sales began. With the sole exception of 1958, sales of new cars since 1953 have been near or substantially above 6 million.

At the 9-10 year age classification, scrappage of autos becomes heavy—much means we are into the peak scrappage years. Heavy junking, of course, increases the demand for new and used cars.

Car Junking Increases

Actually, the evidence is that at six years, cars are junked in rising volume. The average age of cars on the roads today is six years against 5½ years in 1957. It's estimated that 25 per cent of 1955's cars already have been junked.

Replacement demand is only one factor in the sales outlook for durable goods, obviously. It is a highly important factor, though, which has been operating against the economy rather than for it in recent years, for by the late 1950s we had loaded ourselves with new durable goods. Beginning back in 1955, the rate of rise in our spending for durable goods fell sharply and helped slow our economy's growth.

But now the stove we bought in 1956 needs replacing, says Louise—and to paraphrase the popular song, what Louise wants, Louise gets. Now what is happening in our household surely is happening in households across the land.

A provocative variety of forces are emerging and converging to bolster future business in our country. When Congress eases our tax burdens and gives us new incentives to create, construct and spend, we at least could get back into a period of great, sustained growth.
